

2018 Convention

THS Celebrating 55 Years September 13 - 16
Lake George, New York

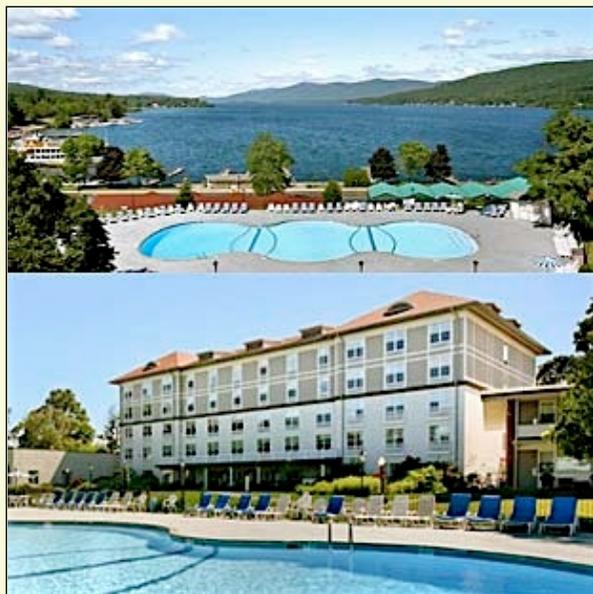

Celebrating 55 years, the Titanic Historical Society Convention will be at the historic Fort William Henry Hotel in the village of Lake George, New York

Our Hotel

Our hotel has a fascinating history. Opened in June 1855, the Fort William Henry Hotel was and continues to be located at the head of Lake George at the southernmost point in Lake George Village. On a bluff, the hotel's main building faces a lengthy lake frontage. On June 24, 1909, the hotel was destroyed by fire. The owners rebuilt a smaller hotel opening on June 17, 1911. In 2005 the white stucco building with a red tile roof was entirely rebuilt on the original hotel footprint. While the hotel is smaller, the emphasis on being a lavish resort remains.

Steamboat Cruise

Our itinerary includes a memorable steamboat cruise aboard the Lac du Saint Sacrement, the largest ship on the inland waters of New York State. Relax in the sun on the Saint's outer decks while listening to the captain narrate places of interest. We'll enjoy a nice lunch in her elegant, climate-controlled dining room while cruising by stunning Adirondack mountain wilderness and historic mansions while sailing on the crystal clear waters of Lake George. Every seat has a view of the lake!

The original month of August was changed to September 13 -16 2018 due to availability. The advantage is there are sizeable savings in our hotel accommodations and less visitors after Labor Day. Our hotel has free parking. Closest airport is Albany International about an hour away. Convention registration, hotel booking information and itinerary will be posted as soon as details are confirmed.
